Specimens received 4/1/71

Resubmission of Q182 through Q185

Q213 Piece of paper bearing handwritten note beginning
"Se diga..." ending on reverse side "...nioel nacional"

Qc214 Photocopy of handwritten note beginning "Componeros:
Viaje sin..."

Result of examination:

Due to the presence of unexplained variations in the handwriting under examination and due to the lack of sufficient handwriting detail in the Qc214 photocopy, it could not be determined definitely whether one writer prepared the handwriting on Q184, Q185, Q213 and Qc214. Some handwriting similarities were observed which indicate this material could all have been prepared by one writer. It is noted Q182 and Q183 contain no handwriting.

The submitted evidence was photographed and is returned herewith.

On February 22, 1968, Associated Press (AP), San Juan, Puerto Rico, received a letter captioned "Communique Number One" and signed "Comandos Armados de Liberacion, CAL," (Armed Commandos of Liberation). The letter declares the intent of CAL to force the "Yankee Invader" to abandon Puerto Rico and goes on to announce among other things that in two places CAL "has destroyed" the Aguadilla-Ramey pipe-line. On February 22, 1968, two explosive devices, one detonated, the other intact, had been discovered on or near the pipe-line used to transport aircraft fuel to Ramey Air Force Base, Aguadilla, Puerto Rico.

On September 26, 1968, a confidential source furnished a pamphlet distributed on September 23, 1968, captioned "Independence or Death - Manifesto to the Puerto Rican Nation from Armed Commandos of Liberation." It summarizes the goals of CAL and its accomplishments during its first year of existence. It expresses satisfaction with the "first phases of our operations consisting of the attack and destruction of American establishments," and goes on to specifically name a number of American establishments attacked or destroyed.

On May 15, 1969, two bombs exploded at a U. S. Naval Station Housing area, San Juan, Puerto Rico. On May 27, 1969, United Press International (UPI), San Juan, furnished a letter received in the mail from CAL headed "Communique Number Ten" dated May 16, 1969, in which CAL claimed credit for this attack. In this letter, CAL called attention of the Press to the fact that its "Communique's could always be identified because invariably we use the same typewriter..."

On November 23, 1969, another confidential source furnished a pamphlet distributed that date in San Juan which carried the statement at the bottom "Clandestinely printed by Armed Commandos of Liberation." This bulletin "repeats" the promise that "for each Puerto Rican jailed for refusing to serve in the armed forces of the United States, we shall execute one yankee." The remainder of the contents includes detailed instructions on conducting a revolution.

Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Laboratory examinations of the CAL communications mentioned above and many others have established that a number of them have been prepared on the same typewriter. The writer of these letters has not been identified nor has any leader-member been identified.

MOVIMIENTO INDEPENDENTISTA REVOLUCIONARIO EN ARMAS
(ARMED REVOLUTIONARY INDEPENDENCE MOVEMENT) (MIRA)

On January 8, 1970, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] advised that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] he was an officer in the Partido Socialista Obrero (Socialist Workers Party) (PSO) when NARCISO RABELL MARTINEZ and ROBERTO TODD PAGAN assumed leadership of the organization. At that time, the PSO was a recently organized self-described Marxist-Leninist organization in Puerto Rico openly advocating the use of violence to achieve independence for Puerto Rico. RABELL organized within the PSO a clandestine group which was to dedicate itself to the destruction of United States-owned enterprises by sabotage and which was to be known as the Movimiento Independencia Rebelde Armado (Armed Rebel Independence Movement) (MIRA). RABELL stated that the operation was Cuban directed and that MIRA initials were designated by Cuba.

On December 4, 1968, a confidential source furnished substantially the same information as that above. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] a sabotage manual used by RABELL in training MIRA members, which manual was utilized by RABELL according to his own statement while undergoing sabotage training in Cuba.

On December 11, 1969, explosions occurred in six United States-owned business establishments in the San Juan, Puerto Rico, area causing considerable damage. On December 12, 1969, in connection with these bombings the OI, POPR arrested four MIRA members for violation of the Explosives Law of Puerto Rico and secured warrants for ROBERTO TODD PAGAN and FILIBERTO OJEDA RIOS on the same charges. The arrests were based on information supplied by RAFAEL NIEVES NEGRON, OI, POPR, who served as an undercover agent in the MIRA organization for OI, POPR. NIEVES NEGRON has advised that MIRA, now known as Movimiento Independentista Revolucionario en Armas (Armed Revolutionary Independence Movement) (MIRA) is led by ROBERTO TODD PAGAN and FILIBERTO OJEDA RIOS. He explained that the present MIRA organization is the same as that originally organized in the PSO and that FILIBERTO OJEDA RIOS is a Cuban trained sabotage agent who gave instructions in sabotage to MIRA members.

On February 24, 1970, the OI, POPR conducted raids on two locations in the San Juan area in an unsuccessful attempt to apprehend TODD and OJEDA. They seized an abundance of written material much of which was specifically identified with TODD and OJEDA and with the MIRA organization. Among the documents seized was a carbon copy of a sabotage manual which upon comparison appeared to be identical to the manual utilized by RABELL.

MOVIMIENTO PRO-INDEPENDENCIA DE PUERTO RICO
(PUERTO RICAN INDEPENDENCE MOVEMENT) (MPIPR)

The MPIPR was organized in November, 1959, at Ponce, Puerto Rico. It has a current membership of about 700-800 persons with several thousand sympathizers. The MPIPR is organized in missions which are located in various towns throughout Puerto Rico. There are also members and sympathizers in the continental United States. The MPIPR National Headquarters is located at 1122 Ponce de Leon Avenue, Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico.

At the time the MPIPR was organized, it indicated that it did not advocate violence, but would accept members who did. JUAN MARI BRAS, the founder and dominant leader of the organization, in a speech in 1964, threatened violence comparable to that in Algeria, 1964, if Puerto Rico became a state within the United States.

MARI BRAS, in an editorial appearing in the March 15, 1970, issue of "Claridad," the MPIPR newspaper, stated that "in Puerto Rico there is an incipient armed struggle on the part of pro-independence individuals who consider it their patriotic duty to conduct warfare against the empire which dominates us. We believe that every Puerto Rican has the right to make war against the invaders of our country. And war is mainly killing and dying."

The press of Puerto Rico has reported that the MPIPR has held numerous public meeting and demonstrations at which they protested compulsory military service for Puerto Ricans, and United States policy in Vietnam. The MPIPR has further urged the boycott of elections in Puerto Rico.

On April 21, 1970, during the course of a program on WTSJ Television in San Juan, Puerto Rico, MARI BRAS stated that the MPIPR has innumerable contacts with revolutionary organizations in South America, Canada, Cuba, Europe, Africa, and in Asia. Through 1969, the MPIPR had a permanent representative stationed in Havana, Cuba.

PARTIDO INDEPENDENTISTA PUERTORRIQUEÑO
(INDEPENDENCE PARTY OF PUERTO RICO) (PIP)

The PIP was founded in 1948, but has declined in votes drastically since 1952. The party first lost legal standing when it failed to poll the required five percent of the total vote cast in the elections of 1960. The PIP was placed on the ballot by legislative edict for the 1964 elections, but again failed to poll the required number of votes. After being placed on the 1968 ballot by fulfilling all legal requirements for recognition as a political party by petition, the PIP received less than three percent of the total vote cast, again losing its status as a registered party.

On March 10, 1970, Mrs. ROSITA M. CONDOVA, Secretary to the Superintendent, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico Elections Board, advised that at the January 23, 1970, meeting of the Elections Board, the PIP was certified as a legally constituted political party in Puerto Rico by reason of petition.

The January 26, 1970, edition of "The San Juan Star," an English language daily newspaper published at San Juan, Puerto Rico, reported that during his speech, accepting the presidency of the PIP, RUBEN BERRIOS MARTINEZ pledged himself to a more radical political posture, with "Christian socialism" and "pacific militance" as principal tactics. In an interview, BERRIOS placed special significance on the inclusion of other means of gaining independence in addition to going to the polls, such as more active participation in protests, marches, pickets and boycotts.

The February 24, 1970, edition of "The San Juan Star," reports that BERRIOS stated that "The only way to solve . . . the problem of military occupation in Puerto Rico is to achieve our independence as a nation."

The April 17, 1970, edition of "El Mundo," a Spanish language daily newspaper published at San Juan, Puerto Rico, contains parts of a speech given by BERRIOS wherein he says that the members of his organization are to intensify the struggle against the regime, but that violence was ruled out for his party. He added that it was more profitable for their cause "to let the invaders break the heads of those opposing their oppression than to fight them face to face." "Some day," he stated, "the lackeys of Yankee imperialism will go too far and there will be innocent victims and blood will run."

PARTIDO SOCIALISTA OBRERO
(SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY)
(PSO)

On April 30, 1968, a confidential source furnished a printed document announcing the creation of "Partido Socialista Obrero" and calling upon the youth of Puerto Rico to defeat imperialism, colonialism, and capitalism, and develop a new society under the flag of Marxist-Leninist Socialism. The document states PSO will respond violently in the defense of life and country against the oppression of the FBI, CIA and Colonial Police. The document is signed by a group of individuals with WILSON CORTES BURGOS identified as Secretary General of the organization.

In December, 1968, the same source reported that NARCISO RABELL MARTINEZ, known to him as the former representative in Havana, Cuba, of a prominent independence organization in Puerto Rico, and ROBERTO TODD PAGAN, had become very active in PSO and were in the process of organizing a sub-group Movimiento Independencia Rebelde Armado (MIRA) within the PSO that would be responsible for the sabotage activities of PSO. RABELL with the concurrence of WILSON CORTES BURGOS announced that the goal of PSO will be to attack by means of bombing and incendiarism American-owned businesses, National Guard Armories, and military installations.

On April 29, 1969, Office of Intelligence, Police of Puerto Rico, advised that nine PSO members were arrested for violating the Explosives Law of Puerto Rico. Those arrested included PSO leaders WILSON CORTES BURGOS, NARCISO RABELL, and ROBERTO JOSE TODD PAGAN. Trial of the arrested PSO members is scheduled for May, 1970, at Superior Court, Aguadilla, Puerto Rico.

Office of Intelligence (OI), Police of Puerto Rico (POPR) advised that a reliable source of the OI had advised that as of that date, Filiberto Ojeda Rios, Federal and local fugitive Movimiento Independentista Revolucionario en Armas (Armed Revolutionary Independence Movement) (MIRA) leader, was hiding in the residence of Saturnino Laboy Medina, in Barrio Las Charcas, near Quebradillas, Puerto Rico.

On October 10, 1970, a raiding party made up of OI and Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) agents entered Barrio Las Charcas and successfully apprehended Ojeda Rios at the residence of Victor Laboy Montezuma, son of Saturnino, who resides adjacent to his father. At the time of Ojeda
Rios' apprehension, [REDACTED] OI, POPR, seized a black overnight bag belonging to Ojeda Rios. Contained therein were a .38 Caliber special Rohm revolver, 68 rounds of ammunition for it, assorted cosmetic makeup, personal toilet items. Also found in the bag were more than forty separate Spanish language documents, a number of which, both handwritten

San Juan is of the opinion that any trained espionage agent, such as OJEDA, would have in his possession a variety of documents testifying to his background as another individual without seriously jeopardizing his true identity. On January 8, 1970, [redacted] Office of

OI, POPR, he was an officer in the Partido Socialista Obrero
(Socialist Workers Party) (PSO) when NARCISO RABELL MARTINEZ
and ROBERTO TODD PAGAN assumed leadership of the organization.
At that time, the PSO was a recently organized self-described Marxist-Leninist organization in Puerto Rico openly advocating the use of violence to achieve independence for Puerto Rico.
RABELL organized within the PSO a clandestine group which was to dedicate itself to the destruction of United States-owned enterprises by sabotage and which was to be known as the Movimiento Independencia Rebelde Armado (Armed Rebel Independence Movement) (MIRA). RABELL stated that the operation was Cuban

On December 11, 1969, explosions occurred in six

MOVIMIENTO INDEPENDENTISTA REVOLUCIONARIO EN ARMAS (MIRA)

NIEVES NEGRON has advised that MIRA, now known as Movimiento Independentista Revolucionario en Armas (Armed Revolutionary Independence Movement) (MIRA) is led by ROBERTO TODD PAGAN and FILIBERTO OJEDA RIOS. He explained that the present MIRA organization is the same as that originally organized in the PSO and that FILIBERTO OJEDA RIOS is a Cuban trained sabotage agent who gave instructions in sabotage to MIRA members.

On February 24, 1970, the OI-POPR conducted raids on two locations in the San Juan area in an unsuccessful attempt to apprehend TODD and OJEDA. They seized an abundance of written material much of which was specifically identified with TODD and OJEDA and with the MIRA organization. Among the documents seized was a carbon copy of a sabotage manual which upon comparison appeared to be identical to the manual utilized by RABELL.

On March 13, 1970, SJ T-1 made available a "Manual of Guerrilla Instruction" which names the publisher as "El Partido Socialista Revolucionario de Puerto Rico (Revolutionary Socialist Party of Puerto Rico) (PSR). The first section explains that it proposes to familiarize the vanguard revolutionary cadres and pro-independence circles with techniques of guerrilla sabotage as related to the utilization of explosives. It calls on the people to join the armed struggle to overthrow North American imperialism and its supporters. The PSR describes itself as Marxist-Leninist. The second section contains a list of necessary tools, materials and accessories for the construction and handling of explosive devices along with 22 pages of detailed instructions with diagrams for their construction and use. In August, 1970, officials of the Office of Intelligence (OI), Police of Puerto Rico (POPR) advised that investigation of the PSR established that it was a part of the Movimiento Independentista Revolucionario en Armas (Armed Revolutionary Independence Movement) (MIRA).

MIRA is a clandestine revolutionary organization which became active in Puerto Rico in 1968. It is directed by Cuban-trained sabotage agents who have utilized their training and have trained others who have utilized the training in the actual destruction of United States enterprises in Puerto Rico.

This communication supplements San Juan communication dated October 8, 1970, captioned as above.

On May 24, 1971, Captain (Capt) Desiderio Cartagena Ortiz, Commanding Officer, OI, POPR, Hato Rey, Puerto Rico, furnished the following information obtained from a source of the OI, POPR, described as reliable by Capt. Cartagena:

" LABOR BULLETIN #A-8

...In brief, we have seen that what the laborer can expect from the Police when he protests is a repressive attitude on their part, because it is an armed branch of the capitalist system in which we live, and as such, has to defend the bases which maintain it. These bases are the private appropriation of the social production of the laborers. This brings as a consequence the unfair distribution of the riches and gives rise to the capitalist exploitation of the laborer.

What we have analyzed above poses the following situation to the Puerto Rican labor class. We have to organize ourselves against the capitalist exploitation we are suffering, and on the other hand, to do it, we will have to face an armed corps which is paid to suffocate the attempt of the laborers to organize themselves. It should be kept in mind at this time, that in Puerto Rico only 18 percent of the labor class is unioned, which leaves a broader field for the exploitation of the laborers. For this reason everything possible will be done to prevent our organization.

Before this situation, one of the alternatives of the labor class is to join a Marxist-Leninist party which organizes the Puerto Rican labor class, so that through the political struggle against the exploitation which we suffer and the armed struggle against the armed force of capitalism, we can achieve the construction of a Puerto Rico where the work of the laborers becomes beneficial for the laborers; that is, a socialist Puerto Rico.

As part of the investigation of MIRA, the writer has conducted a telephone survey of toll calls to and from known militant independentistas in Puerto Rico. It is the writer's opinion that the following information may be significant and bear on the aforementioned activities:

During the period January - February, 1971, telephone number [REDACTED] subscribed to by the [REDACTED] Puerto Rico, which is managed by [REDACTED] was billed for two calls to [REDACTED] subscribed to by [REDACTED] Puerto Rico. [REDACTED] is located a short distance [REDACTED] This telephone number was billed for two calls to [REDACTED] listed to [REDACTED]

Investigation by the writer has determined that in all likelihood, [REDACTED] as of [REDACTED] was a contact of the MIRA. [REDACTED] resides in [REDACTED] Puerto Rico, and utilizes telephone number [REDACTED] During the period January - February, 1971, this number was billed for two calls to [REDACTED] listed to [REDACTED] and also during the period February - April, 1971, was billed for two calls to the same number.

Investigation by the San Juan Office has determined that [REDACTED] is, in all likelihood, identical with MIRA code name [REDACTED] and that her last known address was at [REDACTED] who subscribes to telephone number [REDACTED] A review of toll calls billed to that number reflected that during the period January - February, 1971, that number was billed for one toll call to [REDACTED] listed to [REDACTED]

It should be noted that the services of the FBI Laboratory and the coverage of out-of-state leads were offered to the NYCPD; however, the offer was gratefully declined at this time inasmuch as the recovered material had already been submitted to the NYCPD Laboratory and no out-of-state leads have developed to date.

b7C It should be further noted that in discussing captioned matter with [REDACTED] Special Investigations Service (SIS), Division of Intelligence, NYCPD, [REDACTED] advised that he is definitely of the opinion that captioned acts were carried out by Puerto Rican independentists, noting that all victim stores are located in predominantly Puerto Rican neighborhoods.

In view of the locations of victim stores, the type of incendiary devices used, and the opinion of local authorities, it is felt that captioned acts were probably perpetrated by Puerto Rican independentists. For this reason, this matter will be followed closely with the NYCPD and any pertinent developments will be reported under the following captions:

The San Juan Office desires to intensify coverage of individuals who have participated in or are currently participating in bombing-incendiary activities in Puerto Rico. In part, this coverage will consist of selective surveillances over a period of 90 days.

Prior experiences of the SJO have proven that the large 4-door sedans currently assigned to the SJO are not suitable for moving surveillances in Puerto Rico, in that the majority of vehicles are compacts. It is also known that independentist elements are continually attempting to identify Bureau and Police vehicles.
